IRRIGATION.

THE DESERT.

(Recitative.)—Oh! desert land!

The land of the smiling sun-gle, deep-blue of the star-pierced night,
O rock-piled heights and chasms, awe-fraught to the dizzying sight,
Where the shadow ever chases the light of the blinding day,
With purple and pink and crimson, opalescent and far away!
The candlesticks of the cactus, flame-torches here uphold;
Sunflower disks and feathery mustard spread fields of the cloth of gold.
The polished cups of anole are gilded with spears of thorn—
When the desert wind arises,—and they fade as they were born!
The rainbow-colored spires, wan and withered in a breath—
Bones of man and beast lie together, under mirage-mock of death!

(Chorus.)

Life of sky and sand awaking to prey when all is done;
Land of the desolate people, born of sirocco and sun!

(Recitative.)—Oh! desert land!

MARCH OF THE RACES.

THE PUEBLO.

To the "Holder of the Trails of Life"
The Pueblo's prayers ascend,
He furrows the earth with his stone-chipped knife
Where the frowning canons bend
And the foaming line of the mountain stream
He may turn and store at will—
When "serpents of life" flash across his dream,
And prayer-plumes wave on the hill

(Chorus.)

The waste reclaims the ribboned hills, by toil and patience won—
Land of the wise, peaceful people, long passed to their home in the sun!

THE INDIAN.

As stars o'er pass the fields of sky
The red men swarm o'er plain;
The hunter hounds the bison's flanks,
The warrior heaps his slain.

(Chorus.)

The gold coin hides the crimsoned stains; peace harvests are begun—
Guardion of wilderness people, nourished by shower and sun!

THE PIONEERS.

To the throbbing heart of the fervent earth
Wend the men of latter day,
To the trackless buttes and desert death
Of the mesas far away.
Champion, leader, father and clear-eyed seer
Marched first in the pilgrim's van:
Winged youth—strong manhood—age silver serene—
Swept the sunset's remotest span,

(Chorus.)

Fair Canaan smiles in Deseret, 'neath Pisgah heights that stun;
Land of the long promised-people, green fields, honey bees, and gold sun!

THE IRRIGATED REGION.

(Recitative.)—Oh! glorious land!

The land of homes for the homeless; of shepherded flocks and herds;
The land where the green-valley thickets are choral with songs of birds;
Where over the ancient furrows, silver streamlets are re-drawn;
Where slopes, once arid, lie teeming with wealth of the vine and corn;
The land of sunny spaces, the land of leafy glades;
Of the faith that sees in the desert the promise of verdant blades,
Where fruits of noble fealty, of diviner mood are born—
Where on glimmering heights of future, gleam fair regenerate years,
Read in crystal chiasm of water, the transparent globe of seas!

(Chorus.)

In the garden grows the Tree of Life where Eden's rivers run,
Land of the world-dowered people, nurtured by water and sun!

(Recitative.)—Oh! glorious land!

CHORAL.

Creator! in the morn
When starry worlds were born
To worship Thee!
Day was divorced from night,
Life teemed in depth and height,
Joined grove and wave and light—
In trinity!

(Chorus.)

From grim Assyrian world;
Where Egypt rose empyrean,
From the flood, free;
From Mexico's blue lake
Where the proud Incas slake
The desert's thirst—they make
The Past for Thee!

SICKENED BY BAD FOOD.

Family's Narrow Escape From Death by Potomac Poisoning.

The family of Thomas Ash, 519 Fourth street, had a narrow escape from death by ptomaine poisoning last night. William, Joseph and Marion, children of Thomas Ash, were seized with convulsions after eating some canned tongue. Last evening when William and Joseph Ash returned home, a light lunch was prepared for them. Among other articles of food on the table was some canned tongue. The young men, together with Miss Marian Ash, partook of some of the tongue and soon afterwards were taken very ill. They grew rapidly worse and Dr. E. E. Wilcox was summoned. When the physician arrived the three were suffering from ptomaine poisoning. An examination of the remaining contents of the can revealed the fact that the tongue had been improperly packed and contained poison.

The three sufferers were given strong emetics and in a short time were out of danger.

ACCUSED OF BURGLARY.—Detective George Raleigh of the police department went to Ogden yesterday and brought back Israel Taylor, who was wanted in this city for burglary. Taylor is accused of breaking into the residence of one of his relatives and taking therefrom $20. The theft is alleged to have occurred about two weeks ago, but Taylor was not apprehended until Monday. He was arrested at the Junction City on a description sent out from Ogden. He will probably be arraigned before Judge Dichi to-day.

BROKE HIS ARM.—With a broken arm hanging limp by his side, the young son of Mr. Nagley, who lives on Park avenue, pursued a runaway horse Monday night until he captured him. The horse was driving near his home, when the horse became frightened and swung around a corner. The buggy wheel struck the curb and threw the boy to the ground. The fall fractured his left arm in two places, but bounding to his feet he lad chased the horse into the barnyard and caught him. Walking into the house he quietly informed his parents that his arm had been broken. Drs. Kerr and Chandler set the broken bones.

Fox, who was arrested on Thursday last by Detective Raleigh and Norrell on the charge of murder, and was committed to the county jail, was arraigned before Judge Dichi yesterday. He was arraigned on a charge of murder in the first degree and being a fugitive from justice. Fox was charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, John Fox, and his preliminary hearing was set for Friday morning, but it is hardly probable that he will be tried at that time. An officer is now on route from Alabama to take the prisoner back to that state for trial.
